The heeling touch

I've been getting around in ballet flats all holiday, and even though I'm comfortable, I miss towering over people in my sky-high platforms. So I know fellow heel enthusiasts will love this fantastic new product, particularly during the racing season. If you're sick of scuffing, scratching and staining your heels, turn to Heel Angels, tough but flexible clear PVC strips that twist around the heel of your shoes to protect them from the elements or the kicking feet of crowds. Suitable for all heel types including satin, suede, leather, fabric and wood, Heel Angels are easy to remove and leave no telltale marks. This is a marvellous invention that will protect your favourite heels and save you plenty
